

Sample Exam

Exam Name: ISO 37101 – Certified Lead Implementer

Exam Code: ISO-37101-CLI

What is the core principle of sustainable development as described in the text?

- A. Maximizing economic growth regardless of impact
- B. Meeting present needs without compromising future generations
- C. Prioritizing environmental protection over social needs
- D. Focusing only on technological innovation

Correct Answer: B

Which of the following best describes the primary purpose of ISO 37101?

- A. To regulate industrial environmental emissions
- B. To certify individual sustainability professionals
- C. To provide a framework for sustainable, resilient, and inclusive communities
- D. To replace national sustainability regulations

Correct Answer: C

Which dimension is NOT a core component of sustainable development?

- A. Environmental protection
- B. Social equity
- C. Economic viability
- D. Political dominance

Correct Answer: D

According to ISO 37101, resilience in communities primarily refers to:

- A. Financial profitability
- B. Ability to resist stakeholder engagement
- C. Capacity to withstand, adapt to, and recover from disruptions
- D. Technological superiority

Correct Answer: C

How does ISO 37101 relate to the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)?

- A. It replaces the SDGs
- B. It conflicts with SDG objectives
- C. It provides a practical framework to support and achieve SDGs
- D. It applies only to environmental SDGs

Correct Answer: C

Why is understanding internal and external context important in ISO 37101?

- A. To reduce documentation requirements
- B. To identify strengths, weaknesses, risks, and opportunities affecting sustainability goals
- C. To limit stakeholder involvement
- D. To focus only on internal operations

Correct Answer: B

What is the primary role of leadership in ISO 37101 implementation?

- A. Delegating sustainability responsibilities entirely
- B. Ensuring compliance with financial standards only
- C. Demonstrating commitment and integrating sustainability into strategy
- D. Managing audits exclusively

Correct Answer: C
