

Sample Exam

Exam Name: ISO 22000 - Certified Lead Implementer

Exam Code: ISO-22000-CLI

1. What is the primary objective of ISO 22000?

- a) To improve product quality and customer satisfaction
- b) To ensure food safety hazards are identified, controlled, and mitigated across the food supply chain
- c) To standardize food pricing globally
- d) To replace all national food safety regulations

Correct Answer: b

2. Which structural framework does ISO 22000 align with to enable integration with other management system standards?

- a) Codex Alimentarius
- b) HACCP Seven Principles
- c) Annex SL / High-Level Structure (HLS)
- d) GMP Framework

Correct Answer: c

3. Which revision introduced risk-based thinking and Annex SL structure into ISO 22000?

- a) 2000 revision
- b) 2005 initial publication
- c) 2010 amendment
- d) 2018 revision

Correct Answer: d)

4. Which of the following is a core principle emphasized by ISO 22000 for effective food safety management?

- a) Product inspection only at final stages
- b) Leadership commitment and food safety culture
- c) Marketing-driven quality control
- d) Cost reduction through outsourcing

Correct Answer: b)

5. How does ISO 22000 differ from standards like BRC and SQF?

- a) ISO 22000 is more prescriptive and operational
- b) ISO 22000 applies only to food manufacturers
- c) ISO 22000 provides a flexible, integrated management system approach
- d) ISO 22000 excludes HACCP principles

Correct Answer: c)

6. What is the primary purpose of the “Getting Started” phase in ISO 22000 implementation?

- a) Conducting certification audits
- b) Laying the foundation for the Food Safety Management System (FSMS)
- c) Developing marketing strategies
- d) Eliminating all food safety risks

Correct Answer: b)

7. Which system is integrated into ISO 22000 as a preventive approach to food safety?

- a) GMP
- b) ISO 9001
- c) HACCP
- d) Six Sigma

Correct Answer: c)
